

Dear Family and Friends,

In early 2016 Linda will celebrate 37 years with Disney and she plans to retire in the Spring; she is so grateful for the wonderful Disney family that has surrounded her throughout all those crazy years! She hopes to continue to consult for them periodically once her batteries have recharged a little!

Alcorn McBride introduced several very successful new products that are finding their way into theme parks everywhere. Steve's WritingAcademy.com is also growing; this fall he and Dani created a new course in non-fiction writing.

In March we were thrilled to have the very talented Rachael Sage grace our "home stage"! That same month, we pooled our resources with Dani and bought a condo in a high rise in downtown Chicago. Linda and Steve plan to spend more time in Chicago, but only when it's above freezing! Dani loves her job as a writer for Emmi Solutions.

In October we met Dani in New Orleans for a few days. Halloween on Bourbon Street defies description—let's just say the lady with the large live snake around her shoulders was one of the more normal ones.

In November the three of us spent a couple of delightful days in Yosemite before driving to Los Angeles for a wonderful Smokehouse (garlic bread intensive) Thanksgiving dinner with Linda's Mom and cousins.

Have a healthy and happy 2016! Warmest Regards,
Steve, Linda and Dani
